David joined Baker Tilly Virchow Krause, LLP in 2011 to expand the firm's Litigation and Expert Witness offerings. He has more than 21 years of experience as a claims analyst and expert witness with a focus in the Construction and Government Contract industries. David has prepared cost and schedule analyses related to both commercial construction and government contracts and has testified over a dozen times. Prior to joining Baker Tilly, David was a senior executive at both national and international consulting firms, as well as an independent consultant for several years.

Specific experience

- > Experienced with a wide variety of construction projects, including fossil and nuclear power plants, pharmaceutical manufacturing facilities, rail transportation systems, cogeneration facilities, post offices, desalinization plants, schools, telecommunications systems, highways, chemical manufacturing plants and commercial retail buildings.
- > Analyzed many types of government contract programs, including aircraft production, weapons development, non-reactive nuclear facilities, highway transportation systems, medical device procurement, telecommunications services and chemical weapons facility cleanup. Several of these matters included qui tam allegations and investigations.
- > Consulted extensively on commercial litigation in many industries, including retailing, food service, railroad traffic control systems, hazardous waste disposal, and software sales and services.
- > Analyzed the increased costs due to environmental mitigation and restoration measures and the proper allocation of these costs to the potentially responsible parties.
- > Testified in civil proceedings in State Courts in Maryland, Colorado, Oklahoma, Georgia and Wisconsin. Testimony has covered cost and schedule issues as well as lost profits analyses.
- > Presented in numerous mediations and settlement negotiations.
